PRE-ANESTHETIC/SURGERY QUESTIONNAIRE

For the safety of your pet we recommend a pre-anesthetic profile. This is especially important for animals over 6 years of age, those with health problems, and cats that are new pets for you that have never been tested for feline leukemia virus or feline immunodeficiency virus. The pre-anesthetic profile tests for liver and kidney disease, as well as anemia - all of which could affect the safety of anesthetic. We always recommend that new cats be tested for viruses that will cut their life short if they are infected.

Pre-anesthetic profile ($25)

Yes ___ No ___

Feline Leukemia test ($25)

Yes ___ No ___

Yes ___ No ___

Feline Leukemia/FIV Test (6 months or older) ($35)

IV Fluid Therapy: In older animals or animals with significant kidney, liver, or other medical problems, we recommend IV fluid therapy during anesthesia. This is especially important in procedures that will require your pet to be under anesthetic for a long time. This will include additional blood work, an IV catheter and IV fluids during and after the procedure. The veterinarian will let you know if this is a good idea for your pet. Cost for this procedure is $85.00. Would you like this done today?

Yes ___ No ___

Pain Control: Your pet will have excellent pain control during his or her procedure. Modern medication, however, has allowed us to provide excellent post surgical pain control as well if desired. Do you want a post surgical injection and 4 days of oral medication that can be provided for:

Small Dogs (< 40#) and cats $25

Yes ___ No ___

Large Dogs (> 40#) $35

Since your pet is already going to be under anesthetic, it is often safer and more cost effective to do elective procedures other than the one scheduled today at the same time. This would include things like teeth cleaning, spaying, neutering, tumor removal, etc. Do you have any other procedures you would like done today? _____

Yes ___ No ___

If your pet is not current on vaccines, intestinal worm check, and heartworm check, would you like them done today?
